

Small thing: it's possible to align the top of the box saying 'MP' with the top of the questions & answers! Currently it's sitting slightly higher which is making it less easy to read across

PS: 'MPS' is not a member-facing brand - it's either 'Medical Protection' or 'Dental Protection'

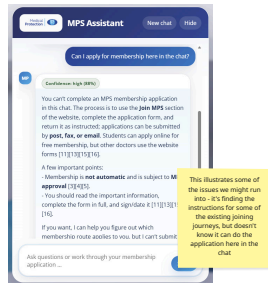

If possible, I would have a thin white banner with the Medical Protection logo on it - like the application form pages you have built and then below this, a blue banner saying 'Chat assistant'

Remove text 'Try a question!'

Remove gradiented background - use same style as application process

"Welcome to the Medical Protection Chat service. Choose a question from the list or type your own below."

Background colour should be dark light grey - same as the headings in the application process

This illustrates some of the issues we might run into - it's finding the instructions for some of the existing joining journeys, but doesn't know it can do the application here in the chat

1. What are the benefits of being a member of Medical Protection?

2. How much does it cost to join?

3. I'm already a member - what should I do if I receive a complaint from a patient?

4. What information do I need to apply?

5. Can I apply for membership now?

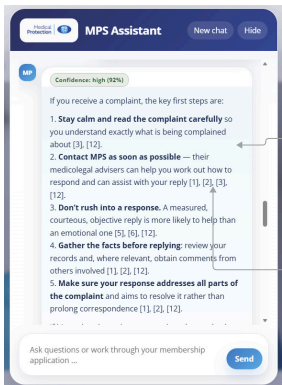

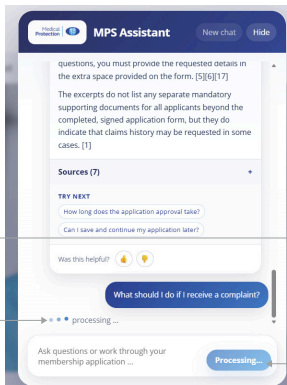

This can still be highlighted in light blue to show it's our 'preferred' question. Usually the answer would have a short intro before the application process starts - i.e. 'Of course, let's get started right away!'

Remove gradiented background - should be flat

Change 'try next' to 'Related questions' in sentence case

'Type your question here'

Again on the background styles, I'd suggest the top bar (where we have the 'Confidence' indicator) is the grey and the answers are on white - consistent with the application form.

All the reference numbers here make this very complicated. Can we leave these out but still have the 'Sources' link below?

Change Processing to Thinking...